

This is our Lean Business Model, which identifies what we believe are the key characteristics of successful Lean organisations.

This model is informed by years of academic research and practical commercial experience, and has been developed within our business as a blueprint for Lean transformation.

But what do these elements mean —what does good look like?

