Why become a Scottish Food & Drink Ambassador?

Becoming a Scottish Food & Drink Ambassador is a rewarding way to share your experience, support young people and enjoy the personal and professional benefits that volunteering can bring.

Why get involved?

Help shape future talent

Help young people discover careers they may never have considered and gain a better understanding of the opportunities available across Scotland's food and drink industry.

Give something back

Volunteer your time to help young people discover careers they may never have considered and better understand the opportunities available across Scotland's food and drink industry.

Develop yourself

Build confidence in communication and presenting, while connecting with educators, fellow Ambassadors and professionals from across the sector.

Champion your industry

Help showcase the innovation, diversity and career opportunities that make Scotland's food and drink industry such an exciting place to work.

Feel the benefits of volunteering

Volunteering can provide a sense of purpose and personal fulfilment, while giving you the opportunity to reflect on your own career journey and be part of something bigger.

Ready to get involved?

Every contribution counts - whether you have an hour to spare or want to volunteer more regularly we want to hear from you. Every conversation helps raise awareness of careers in Scotland's food and drink industry.

Contact Emma an Moira or register directly through the STEM Learning platform.

📧 emma.koubayssi@fdfscotland.org.uk | moira.stalker@fdfscotland.org.uk

🌐 foodeducationscotland.scot
LinkedIn: scottish-food-drink-ambassadors